Binding Death Benefit Nomination

Who'll get your super if you die?

You can nominate one or more persons that you require the trustee of MyLife MySuper to pay your death benefit to should you die while a member of MyLife MySuper, by making a 'binding death benefit nomination'.

If you make a binding death benefit nomination and it is still valid and in effect at the event of your death, the trustee of MyLife MySuper will be bound to follow it and pay your death benefit to the persons you have nominated and in the proportions specified by you.

If you do not wish to make a binding death benefit nomination, and the Trustee allows it, you may still nominate who you would prefer to receive your super payout in the event of your death by calling the MyLife MySuper Service Centre on 1300 MYLIFE (1300 695 433) or via MyLife Online.

A preferred nomination would not be legally binding on the Trustee.

You may confirm, amend or revoke your binding death benefit nomination at any time. As your personal circumstances change, it's important to remember to keep your nomination up-to-date.

Completing the form

To make a binding death benefit nomination in MyLife MySuper you must:

- Complete this form in full and sign and date it in the presence of two witnesses. The witnesses must be at least 18 years of age and neither of them can be nominated within this form. Each witness must also sign and date the form in Step 4.
- Only nominate someone who is your Dependant* and/or legal personal representative (of your estate).
- Ensure you clearly specify the percentage of your super that you wish to allocate to each person and that the total allocation equals 100%.

Once properly made, your nomination replaces any previous nomination you may have made, whether of preferred beneficiaries or a binding death benefit nomination.

If you wish to revoke an existing binding death benefit nomination and not make a further nomination you need only complete Steps 1, 3 and 4 of this form, leaving Step 2 blank.

What you should know about binding death benefit nominations

In the event that you die without a valid and in effect binding death benefit nomination in place, the trustee of MyLife MySuper will be required to either pay your entire death benefit to your estate or exercise its discretion and decide on payment of your death benefit to any one or more of your Dependants.

A binding death benefit nomination will become invalid if:

- it is completed prior to your admission to the Fund
- it is not made using the required Binding Death Benefit Nomination form,
- the Binding Death Benefit Nomination form has not been properly completed (for example, the nominated proportions are not clear or do not equal 100%, or the form has not been signed and witnessed correctly),
- at the time of your death, one or more of the persons nominated by you have died or is not your Dependant* or legal personal representative,
- you were legally incapable of making the nomination; or
- the trustee is legally restrained or prohibited from paying your super benefit to one or more of the persons nominated by you.

Binding death benefit nominations cease to have effect after a period of three years from the date you sign your nomination, or re-confirm it to apply for a further three years, unless revoked by you earlier. It would also cease to have effect if you are subject to a Court Order at the time of your death, that prohibited you from making a binding death benefit nomination or required you to amend or revoke a nomination, or if (and for so long as) the trustee is prevented from paying out your death benefit in accordance with your nomination due to Family Law.

 The persons you nominate must be your 'Dependant' or legal personal representative (that is, the executor or administrator of your estate). 'Dependant' is defined as:

- your spouse – whether by marriage, a de facto relationship (including same-sex partners) or a registered relationship under a law of State or Territory (including same-sex partners)
- your children including step-children, adopted children and your spouse's children;
- any other person who the trustee considers is wholly or partially dependent on you at the time of death; or
- any person you have an interdependency relationship with. Two people (whether or not related by family) have an interdependency relationship if:
 1. they have a close personal relationship;
 2. they live together; and
 3. one or each of them provides the other with financial support; and
 4. one or each of them provides the other with domestic support and personal care.

An interdependency relationship will also exist between two people if they have a close personal relationship but do not meet the other criteria as listed above (2, 3 & 4) because either or both of them suffer from a physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability.

Any amounts paid to your legal personal representative would be distributed according to your will, or if you don't have a will, according to the laws of the State in which you resided at the date of your death.
